

Transcript

Hey, we're making progress. I've added in a place to keep track of the number of sheep and getting that to start actually venturing past where we were and the things that we wanted to do. So here I've got my sheep count put in figuring out how to get these things put together and work on making it look prettier later.