Persistence always pays off. I got everything moving. I kept at it and I didn't quit. And that's just the big thing I love about coding is that you can get it. It's tough. It takes time, but you'll get it and I got it. I got the sheet moving. So check this out. So I got my sheep to move. You can see them moving. Now, I still have a little bit to work on, but the reset works as well.
The counter isn't updating yet, but hey, we're making progress.
