So the sheep counter works, and I can have new sheep coming on the screen, and I also have them dying, which is kind of cool. So I can bring them in and bring them out all as I want. Okay, so I've been working on this new project and using what I'm learning from the other tutorial and really have taken a new direction with it. I'm really happy with what's happening. Because not only have I gotten things working that I couldn't get to work before, but I got to work really well. And I'm getting a lot of progress really quickly. So it does show, take a little bit of time, go learn that new skill, and really do better rather than just banging your head against the wall all day long. So I've had a lot of fun and we'll see you later.
