Went with a little bit of the work from the tutorial yesterday and put in a new grass field so that I could set the stage for some future work and make the job easier. It's nice to have a plan and look ahead and sometimes you can avoid those roadblocks by doing that. So I got a new field had to work out some things to make all this work, but the grass looks a whole lot better. This is also going to give me more options in later stages of my project. So it's important to get this part now.
